Experiments of One Man May Make U. S. World Silk Center

Because of the ingenuity and perseverance of a New Jersey farmer, the United States is well on the way to a domestic silk industry that may well not only put the final cracker to Japan's economic suffering and a pleasant and profitable way of making a living for war veterans and others.

[illegible] which make the work of [illegible] in the [illegible] easier. He [illegible] invented an [illegible] which strips the [illegible] of a mulberry tree in a minutes what a Chinese woman, using the traditional hand-working methods, could accomplish in [illegible] hours.

Our officials were wisely [illegible] that [illegible] be developed a Japanese propaganda to that effect. [illegible] value of the cocoon [illegible] As a [illegible] that, by cross-pollination, [illegible] while [illegible] the [illegible] to produce a kit of [illegible] than any Japan has [illegible] four [illegible] years and [illegible] the final clincher. On after [illegible] fruitless attempts, [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] while the fourth [illegible] [illegible] incidentally, simple and [illegible] that nearly a kit [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]